To call Robinhood customer service directly +1 833-216-2320, you'll need to use their in-app callback feature. This is the only legitimate way to receive phone support from them. Here's how to request a call through the Robinhood app:

1. Open the Robinhood app and log in to your account.
2. Navigate to your profile.
3. Tap on "Help" or "Support".
4. Choose the "Contact Us" option.
5. You'll then see the option to Request a Call +1 833-216-2320.
6. Select the problem category that best matches your issue.
7. Robinhood will then schedule a callback with a live support representative.

Important Notes:

● Robinhood advises against using phone numbers found through a web search, as these may be fraudulent and part of a scam.
● Robinhood will never ask for your password or full security codes over the phone.
● Keep your name, email, and account details ready for faster verification.
● If you need immediate help for issues like account access or trade questions, calling the number "++1 833-216-2320". However, proceed with caution and prioritize contacting through the official app or website to ensure security.
● Robinhood offers 24/7 in-app chat support, which may be helpful for general inquiries.
